Peace Party.

All at once there seems to be a great desire for peace on the part of the Secessionists. This is but a flimsy pretext on their part. They know as well as we do that peace can be restored in thirty days if their traitorous allies and rulers in the South will cease their war upon the Government. But while they have their hearts full of venom, and their hands reeking with blood, and the blood-stained dagger at the heart of the Government, they cry out peace, peace! What sort of peace? Destroy the Government; enough to the despotic sway of Jeff. Davis; kiss the rod that is raised to chastise us, and beg for peace? Is this the peace they would have Kentuckians adopt? Is this the peace they would see for? But for their unholy ambition—but for the arrogance of their leaders, and the blind infatuation of the followers—but for the long continued system of swindling, and their persistent course of terror, we would never have had this war. They began it; let them cease their strife. Let them as "Christian men" (for they lay stress on Christianity) repair as far as in their power the great wrong they have inflicted, and the great sin they have committed. Let us have no aiding and abetting treason under the garb of peace.

The disguise which these men have put on is too flimsy to conceal their main and only purpose. Kentucky has been disposed to peace all the time. She has so declared herself most emphatically on every occasion since this crisis began. True to the motto engraved in unfading letters on the monument to Washington, she holds her position in the Union, willing to be at peace with all men and States, and waiting and hoping that she may be the means in the hands of Providence of once more drawing around her in brotherly love those who have been so sadly estranged. Standing amid the contending parties, we have no doubt she is looked to by both as the bow of promise from which peace may ultimately be shed abroad over the whole land. Let her be true to herself, true to the position she occupies in the nation, and always true to her first and greatest duty the preservation and perpetuation of the Government and country she has inherited, and all will still be well.

A peace party is but another name for a Secession party. We need no peace party here. We are not at war yet, as far as Kentucky is concerned. The proper locality for these peace preachers is in the Southern Confederacy. There they need such preaching. There their propositions and white badges might do some good, especially if they can stop the fighting, which has been so ruthlessly begun by them. Let them send a committee of the quasi peace men to the Southern Congress, and there make a show of their white badges and their multitude of religion.

Stick to the Constitution and Laws.
In this time of trouble, men are apt to launch out on a sea of speculation upon the gravest and most dangerous subjects. Every man has a remedy for the evils apprehended in some measure of policy that he conceives. Now, the only safe course is to obey the Constitution and the laws. What they do not forbid, any citizen has a right to do at his discretion, and should be protected in that right. What is not required, he can refuse to do. It is unsafe to trust higher laws and individual guesses, and lawless as it is unsafe. The sailor in a storm would be acting absurdly to throw away his chart and compass and depend on the course of the wind for safety. All over the South, the restraints of the Federal Constitution being disregarded, all laws were set at defiance that stood in the way of any cherished purpose. Governors seize property that do not belong to them; vigilance committees assume arbitrary and despotic power over the persons and property of our citizens. Down at Paducah, in this State, a self-constituted committee usurps power over commerce, and by their arbitrary rule stop whatever they deem necessary to aid their purpose or gratify their revenge. It is announced that some men in Harrison county have taken it on themselves to threaten the Covington and Lexington Railroad with destruction if it carried arms for men in Kentucky.

These things cannot be submitted to in this State. Every person and corporation in this Commonwealth must be protected in their rights. This lawlessness had better be voluntarily stopped; for it must otherwise be stopped by force, under legal process, sustained by posse sufficient to accomplish the purpose. Constitutions and laws must be observed now in this State; our people must be protected in all their legal rights; and these self-constituted despots, in the shape of lawless committees, must answer to the laws for their unwarrantable trespasses upon the persons and property of our people.

John S. Watts will be elected delegate to Congress from New Mexico, without opposition—so says a correspondent of the St. Louis Republican.

The Secessionists of this city are very meek, and even pious, in the resolutions for peace. They are in a small minority in the city, and hence it is desirable to be mild and peaceful. The gettters up of the affair, however, only want a majority to make certain amendments to the resolutions.

What is really meant in the resolutions, the organ supplies by an editorial in another column, right by the side of the resolutions. We here insert the resolutions with the amendments from the Courier, in order that unsophisticated people may understand the whole matter:

Resolved, That on Saturday, the 24th inst., the Peace Party of Louisville, each person wearing a white rosette or ribbon, will erect a white flag, the symbol of peace, with the word PEACE inscribed on its folds; that we urge upon every county, city, town and precinct in the State to erect similar flag; that the people erect them on their houses, and that steamboats, railroad trains, and every species of vehicle carry them.

Amendment by the Courier's comment: Then, the war will never cease—unless President Davis shall conquer a peace. And we think he will do it. We tell the friends of peace to be of good courage. The work of pacification is going on bravely, and in less than three months the North will be a supplicant for peace.

Again: Resolved, That our people should earnestly invoke the Father of Mercy, and the Prince of Peace to show favor, and give peace to our war-afflicted country, and imbue us with the wisdom, the patriotism, and the forbearance of our revolutionary fathers, as well as due appreciation of their sufferings, their toils and their glory; that we may, in these trying times, emulate them in transmitting the God-given boon of peace to posterity.

Amendment of the Courier: But unless peace is proposed, and proposed speedily, the capital at Washington will fall—Maryland and Missouri will be emancipated, and the Confederate army will threaten Philadelphia. The Lincolnites can now have peace on honorable terms; if they postpone it a few months, they will be compelled to ask it as supplicants. These are plain words, but they are true, as the supporters of Lincoln will very soon discover.

Then we can have peace, provided we submit to Jeff. Davis' demand for the division of the country, which he makes at the mouth of the cannon. We must, at this insolent dictation, give up our country; otherwise, the organ of the peace party tells us what Davis will do. He will wage war, bloody and relentless, not only at Washington, but at Philadelphia. Fire and sword are to make peace. So ends the peace party by the exposition of the party organ.

The St. Louis Republican of the 17th inst. says that "Gen. Sigel encouraged on Thursday night seventeen miles south west of Rolla." It states, moreover, that the retreat from Springfield was conducted and so continued up to the last hour when Gen. Sigel was heard from. Rumors of an apprehended attack had been started, but they could not be traced to any credible source, and are wholly unreliable.

The Secessionists of Louisville's resolve that the people of Louisville have ever been loyal to their country and its Constitution. That's true; thanks to the Union men of the city who have a majority of seven or eight to one; but the Secessionists ought to have added in spite of all our efforts to the contrary.

The Richmond papers have been forced to acknowledge that Hampton was burned by rebel troops, acting under the orders of General Magruder. What they previously denounced as an act of vandalism they now justify as being a case of military necessity and strictly "constitutional."

The Quebec Mercury says the object of the British fleet in going South, is only the general one of protecting British interests, and to demand that free access shall be had to the important Southern ports so long as they are not blockaded in a manner deemed legal by international law.

Files of Rio Janeiro papers, to July 9th, received in New York, are devoid of interest. The coffee trade was dull and prices lower. Rates of exchange are quoted still lower than our last advices, being from 25 to 24 1/2 and 24 on London.

Resolved, That war is a dire necessity, never to be resorted to, except as the only means of accomplishing a certain good.

Then Davis & Co. are in the last degree criminal, for they have engaged in a war for no certain good!

General Lyon begged in vain for reinforcements. The night before his death he said, "Alas! they do not come!" Since his death, seven regiments have been forwarded to sustain the troops which he commanded.

Hon. Amos Kendall is now sojourning at Bridgeport, Conn., where he is engaged in writing the life of President Jackson.

The abundant rains of the last ten days will bring out the latest corn, and improve the meadow and grazing land generally.

The two armies at Washington are getting into close quarters. They are not come together shortly, and then—somebody will get hurt.

Some of the Republicans are beginning to see that they were much mistaken in the South in many respects. They sneered at the threat of a dissolution of the Union; they now see it is a danger not to be sneered at. They thought the South weak; contemptibly weak; rather a mistake, as they see now. We recommend to them, after that grave mistake, to abandon Republicanism and its purposes. It will not do: depend on it.

It appears that after all, the bible did not save young Mangum, of North Carolina. It will be recalled that he was supposed to have been saved by a bible in his vest, from which the ball that struck him glanced. He has since died of the wound. He was a son of the Hon. W. P. Mangum, of North Carolina.

P. P.—The peace party was extremely anxious a few months since to fix the State over six millions of dollars for the purpose of buying arms. We suppose the innocent little rabbits desired to put Kentucky on a peace footing.

Hon. Alex. R. Boteler, late member of Congress from Virginia, has died from lock-jaw, produced by a bullet wound at the battle of Bull's Run.

The lamb-like innocence of the peace party here will not suit their friends in Dixie land. It is too sheepish.

Greely was a peace man once, as will be seen from the following. If he had not fallen from grace, he might now be at the head of the peace party:

Let them go.—If ever "seven or eight States" sends agents to Washington, to say, "We want to get out of the Union," we feel constrained by our devotion to human liberty to say, "Let them go!" And we do not see how we could take the other side without coming in direct conflict with those rights of man which we hold paramount to all political arrangements, however convenient and advantageous.—New York Tribune, Dec. 18.

Adjutant General Sanborn relates that when the Minnesota regiment was drawn up in line of battle opposite to the Mississippi regiment, the wagon master of the Minnesota regiment, our friend Anson Northrup, was in the ranks with musket in hand. The regiment, practicing the Zouave drill, in which Ans. is not very proficient, fell flat on the ground after the first round—every man killed as Northrup thought. Resolved to have another crack at the rebels, Northrup reloaded his musket, and just after he fired up jumped his comrades and fired another round as much to Northrup's surprise. He said, as if so many dead men had come out of their graves.—Minnesota Paper.

Generous Donations.—Mr. T. A. Harrison, of Minnesota, formerly largely engaged in the flour business in Belleville, Illinois, and having extensive business connections in this city, yesterday generously donated the sum of $16,000 to the United States Government. The donation will, of course, prove very acceptable just at this time and place.

The People's Saving Institution of this city, which was overlooked in the recent arrangement with the banks for a loan yesterday voluntarily came forward and tendered their proper proportion—$12,000. St. Louis Republican, 17th.

Picket Shooting.—The practice which has prevailed in both armies of shooting the enemy's pickets is in the highest degree reprehensible and barbarous. We are, therefore, glad to see that such inhumanity is being discouraged by certain officers on both sides. A general order ought, however, to be issued upon the subject, which would, no doubt, call forth a similar one from the rebels, and so an end would be put to this system of revolting and useless bloodshed.—N. Y. Herald, 16th.

British Ships to Run the Blockade.—A letter from a Boston gentleman at St. John's, N. B., states that Mr. J. B. Leffing, of Charleston, S. C., on whom drafts are made in payment for the goods purchased in Boston for the Southern Confederacy, is at the Waverly House, St. John's. He is negotiating with the ship owners in that city to induce them to run the blockade, with whatever cargoes are most needed, under the English flag.

Excess of Women in England.—It is ascertained by the last British census that the increase of males in the ten years—1871-81, was much less than the increase of females—1,136,489. The females increased in excess of the males 178,862. By the census of 1851, the proportion of males to females was 100 to 105; in the new population it is as 97 to 115.

Cold Weather on the White Mountains.—We learn from the Boston Transcript, of Saturday, that the weather was very cold at the White Mountains during most of last week. A severe rain storm on Monday cleared the air, and was succeeded by a cold night, during which ice formed at many points on the mountains.

The Washington Territory Election.—We have no later news of this election than we have already published. The belief is general that Gov. Wallace is elected as delegate to Congress. The chief interest of the election centered upon the election of delegate.

The U. S. District Attorney of Southern Ohio has directed the Clerk of the Court to issue writs against a large quantity of goods in the possession of Collector Carson, of Cincinnati. These goods were taken while on transit to the rebel States.

Land Warrant Assignments.—The Secretary of the Interior has recently decided that assignments of land warrants in blank are not valid, and that the names of the assignees, to render them legal, must be written at the time of the transfer.

The Confederate Congress.
RICHMOND, August 8.—Congress went into secret session as early as eleven o'clock in the morning. The business transacted was of great public importance, as will be seen by the acts passed, and which have been approved by the President, full copies of which we are enabled to give our readers.

INCREASE OF THE ARMY—FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND MEN CALLED FOR.
A bill to be entitled an act further to provide for the public defense.

Sec. 1. The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That in order to provide additional forces to repel invasion, maintain the rightful possession of the Confederate States of America, and to secure the independence of the Confederate States, the President be and is hereby authorized to employ the militia, military, and naval forces of the Confederate States of America, and to ask for and accept the services of any number of volunteers not exceeding four hundred thousand, who may offer their services, either as cavalry, mounted riflemen, artillery, or infantry, in such proportions of these several arms as he may deem expedient, to serve for a period of not less than twelve months nor more than three years after they shall be mustered into service, unless sooner discharged.

Sec. 2. That whenever the militia or volunteers are called out and received into the service of the Confederate States, under the provisions of this act, they shall be organized under the act of the 6th of March, 1861, entitled "An act to provide for the public defense," with the same pay and allowance of said act, and the same time for the service of the militia.

Sec. 3. Nothing in this act shall be construed to or in any way alter any act heretofore passed, and authorizing the President to receive troops offered directly to the Confederate States for the war, or for less time.

EXTENSION OF THE ARMY ORGANIZATION OVER KENTUCKY, MISSOURI, MARYLAND AND DELAWARE.
A bill to be entitled an act to authorize the President of the Confederate States to grant commissions to raise volunteer regiments and battalions composed of persons who are or have been residents of the States of Kentucky, Missouri, Maryland and Delaware.

The Congress of the Confederate States of America do enact, That the President of the Confederate States of America be, and is hereby, authorized to grant commissions to officers, not above the grade of Captain, to such persons as he may think fit to raise and command volunteer regiments and battalions for the service of the Confederate States; said regiments and battalions to be composed of persons who are or have been residents of the States of Kentucky, Missouri, Maryland, and Delaware, and who have enlisted, or may enlist, under said officers upon the condition, however, that such shall not hold rank or receive pay until such regiments or battalions have been raised and mustered into service.

RICHMOND AFTER THE BATTLE.—A letter from Louisville says that James Hewitt, Esq., of the firm of Hewitt, Norton & Co., Liverpool, New York and New Orleans, has lately arrived from Richmond, and is authority for the following strange statement, now rumored extensively about the city:

Since the battle of Manassas the utmost alarm and disorganization among the army and financial distress among the people generally have existed. The city was filled with men and women from the most distant States hunting information of relatives—infor as in which, owing to the secrecy maintained by the Government, they could not obtain. No report of the killed and wounded had been made up, nor was it likely that any ever would be. The greatest distress prevailed, and complaints were loud, deep, and earnest. Soldiers were demanding their release and their pay, and fighting to get home, and expressing their determination to return home. There was money in the city, especially British bonds of the State banks, coin, especially British, being a particularly scarce article. To these murmurings of the mob of Richmond city there were added other murmurings, not so loud nor so insolent, but murmurings distinctly uttered and distinctly heard, that were coming up from every part of the Confederacy, complaining of the existing state of affairs. These complaints and the financial troubles of the Government were having their effect, and learning of a scheme it had on hand, Mr. Hewitt telegraphed to Richard Atkinson, of this city, his agent, to write by the first steamer to the house in Liverpool to sell all the cotton on hand at existing rates as soon as possible. Mr. Hewitt has since reached this city, and his agent has been hurriedly dispatched to New York. The plan of the Confederate Government, which had such an effect on Mr. Hewitt, was that of reconstruction. A proposition is to be made in a few days to the United States Government for an armistice for sixty days, during which time it is proposed to hold a Convention at Louisville, Ky., for the purpose of reconstructing the Union.—N. Y. World, 16th.

Official returns of the rebel forces show them to be two hundred and ten thousand strong. The recent act of the Congress at Richmond calls for four hundred thousand more, which they expect to get from the States of Delaware, Maryland, Kentucky, and Missouri. It will require some sharp practice if they succeed.—New York Herald.

The New York Herald of the 16th inst. says: Two relatives of the late Major General Lyon will leave this city to day en route to Missouri to procure the remains of the General, which will be conveyed to this city in a few days.

Great Mass Meeting of the National Union Democracy of Grant County, Kentucky.

Pursuant to previous public notice, the National Union Democracy of Grant County met in mass meeting, in the Court house, in Williamstown, on Monday, the 12th of August, 1861, (County Court day,) to take into consideration the present unfortunate condition of our country, and for the purpose of appointing delegates to a Convention of the National Union Democracy of the State, proposed to be held in Frankfort at an early day.

E. H. Smith called the meeting to order. James H. Robinson was chosen Chairman, and B. N. Carter appointed Secretary. Wm. Sherrin, Jackson Beagle, Dr. C. D. Lewis, John Shields and G. W. Salyers were chosen Vice Presidents.

E. H. Smith, W. T. Simmons, R. J. Dyer, W. H. Brown, William O'Hare, Jackson Delph, Hiram Elliott, John Dillo, Isaac Franks, G. W. Salyers, John Marshall, William Crouch and James Kinsler were, on motion, appointed a committee on resolutions.

While the committee were preparing resolutions for the action of the meeting, B. N. Carter and Colonel William S. Rankin each, on being called, addressed the audience. The committee having returned made the following report:

We, the National Union Democracy of Grant County, in mass-meeting assembled, ignoring all party differences and disputes, and preferring rather the well-being and happiness of our common country to any mere party triumph, and being desirous of having all unite with us who are in favor of a peaceful settlement of our national difficulties, publish the following as the sense of this meeting:

1. Resolved, That, ever mindful of the loyalty of the National Union Democracy party and other conservative men of the Northern States to the Constitution and flag of our common country, of their willingness to respect and accord to the people of the Southern States their just rights under the Constitution of the United States, and of their efforts to bring about a settlement of our national troubles by compromise, we hail with pleasure the action taken by them in their late meetings, county and State, as the dawn of a brighter future, hoping that they will push on their good work until all our national difficulties shall be peacefully settled by compromise, on terms alike honorable and satisfactory to the people of our common country, North and South; and, in order to accomplish these great objects, we hereby tender to the National Union Democracy party of the North our hearty cooperation and support—hereby inviting the co-operation of all who are willing to act with the National Union Democracy.

2. That we are now, as heretofore, in favor of the Constitution of the United States—the Union of all the States, both North and South, upon the principles agreed to by our revolutionary fathers—the maintenance of the Constitution in its purity, and the enforcement of the laws of the legally constituted agents, and by none others.

3. That, as there is an honest difference of opinion among the people of the United States in regard to the subject of slavery as enunciated in the Constitution, (in relation to which we retain our own peculiar views), and as our country is now involved in civil war, and as we desire a peaceful settlement of our national difficulties, and as the people of the United States are, of right, the source of all power, and as we have lost confidence in the policy of the extreme schools of both sections of our country, and being willing, at all times, to concede that which is right, and when time to demand knowingly that which is wrong, we are, therefore, in favor of, and will advocate the calling of a National Convention to amend the Constitution of the United States, and will advocate amendments to the Constitution those measures commonly known as the Crittenden Compromise, believing that, should they be adopted, peace will be restored to our common country, and the much vexed slavery question will be put to an eternal sleep.

4. That we deeply deplore and are opposed to the civil war now devastating our common country, and its consequent debt, direct taxation, and all the other wrongs, evils and oppressions resulting therefrom to the people of this once united and happy Republic.

5. That we are opposed as well to the sectional fanaticism of the Abolitionists and R-publians of the North, as to the sectionalism of the Secessionists and self-styled Southern Rights party of the South, believing, as we do, that the present civil war, by which our country is now distracted, is the natural result of misguided sectionalism, engendered by fanatical agitators North and South.

6. That the President of the United States has violated the Constitution of the United States in suspending the writ of habeas corpus—in calling for volunteers for three years—in increasing the navy and standing army without any provision being made therefor by law—and, therefore, he justly deserves the condemnation of the people of the United States.

7. That Governor Magiffin, of Kentucky, in attempting to borrow money upon the faith of the credit of the State, without provision having been made therefor by law, was guilty of an attempted usurpation of power, and he, therefore, justly merits the condemnation of the people of Kentucky.

8. That we are opposed to the General Government's interfering with or usurping any of the reserved rights of the several States, or the people thereof.

9. That we are opposed to the several States, or the people thereof, or any combination of the people thereof, assuming or usurping any of the rights, privileges, or powers properly belonging to the Federal Government under the Constitution.

10. That we are opposed to all usurpation of power, no matter by whomsoever, law, cover, and under whatsoever pretext made.

11. That we recommend that the Executive Committee of the Union Democracy of Kentucky call a convention of the Union Democracy, and all other Union men of Kentucky who are willing to co-operate with said party, to meet in Frankfort at an early day, to take into consideration the policy and organization of the National Union Democracy party.

Jas. K. Johnston, J. E. Smith, B. F. Green, John W. Lee, Jackson Delph, Hiram Elliott, A. W. Sipple, Robert Eliston, Wm. Hendrix, Jr., B. F. Tomlin, John Coraes, Perry Conyers, James Smith, Isaac Franks, R. J. Dyer, Wm. H. Brown, Wm. Vallandigham, R. L. Collins, James Mann, C. D. Read, Wm. M. Dwyer, H. L. Blachet, F. G. Bracht, B. N. Carter, and all other Union men of Grant county who choose to attend said Convention, and that those who attend are authorized to cast the vote of the county.

13. That the proceedings of this meeting be published in the Cincinnati Enquirer, Frankfort Commonwealth, Louisville Democrat and Louisville Journal.

On motion, the foregoing resolutions were adopted without debate and by acclamation. E. H. Smith and W. T. Simmons then being called upon by the meeting addressed the audience.

When, on motion, the meeting adjourned sine die.

DEATH OF A CITIZEN OF RHODE ISLAND.
The Providence (R. I.) papers announce the death of ex Mayor Walter S. Danforth, of that city, in the 76th year of his age. The deceased was a graduate of Brown University, and a lawyer by profession. He held successively the offices of Clerk of the Supreme Judicial Court of the county; Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas; member of the town Council and Legislature; Collector of the Port of Providence, to which he was appointed by Gen. Jackson, and various other positions of responsibility. He was also for many years connected with the press, having at different periods, edited the Providence Gazette, the Microcosm, the Express, and the Republican Herald, published in Providence. In 1853 he was elected Mayor of the city.

A brave officer, who had been wounded with a musket ball in or near the knee, was stretched upon the dissection table of a surgeon, who, with an assistant, began to cut and probe in the region of his anatomy. After awhile the "subject" said:—"Don't cut me up in that style, doctor. What are you torturing me in that cruel way for?"

"We are looking for the ball," replied the senior operator.

"Why didn't you say so, then, before?" asked the indignant patient. "I've got the ball in my pocket."

Telegraphic News.

FARTHING POINT, August 19.—The London Times, editorially says the victory was a complete one. The Union army lost all their military power, and wishes it could find something in it to congratulate either victors or vanquished on, but sees nothing but what must stimulate the evil passion of both combatants.

The New York Daily News denounces the Times' "editorial," but says nothing happened which was not anticipated as possible.

All journals think the event has closed the door of compromise, and must embitter and prolong the struggle.

A Paris letter says the success of the Southern powers, powerfully operated on the Parisian opinion, in favor of the Secessionists.

Parliament closed on the 6th inst. The Queen's speech was read. It says our foreign relations are friendly and satisfactory, and trusts there is no danger of the peace of Europe. She says of American affairs: "she has determined, in common with other powers of Europe, to observe a strict neutrality between the contending parties."

The British Government granted important modifications in Sheaffer's North Atlantic Telegraph, by extending the time till 1874, and returning the caution money.

London, Aug. 19.—The London Shipping Gazette complains of the blockading fleet, and says it is a risk of a collision with the maritime powers. Other journals speak of the same danger.

Washington, August 18.—The statement made by Mr. Davis, says the Confederates were moving their forces to the line of the Potomac, with a view of entering Maryland, and supporting the revolutionary spirit which designs on Washington.

It is now made out with an increased assurance of its truth, with such evidences as cannot be disregarded. With a view of meeting all possible contingencies which may arise in connection with this subject, the Administration has just issued the following important order: "A prompt response it is not desired to be given at once, securing the military and naval forces, and at the same time, the confidence of the Government in the protection of the general welfare."

WAR DEPARTMENT, Washington, Aug. 19, 1861.—All volunteers of regiments of volunteers accepted by this Department in the States of Pennsylvania, New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Vermont, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, Maine and Michigan will take the oath of conformity to the general orders this day directed to the Governors of the States above named, which is as follows:

To the Governor of the State of: By direction of the President of the United States you are urgently requested to forward, or cause to be forwarded, to the city of Washington, all volunteer regiments, or parts of regiments, at the expense of the United States Government, that may be now enrolled in your State, and all clothing or supplies belonging to, or contracted for, the several regiments, shall be forwarded to Washington for their use, detailed reports of which shall be made to the commanding General. (Signed) SIMON CAMERON, Secretary of War.

All the Military Departments of the States of Delaware, Maryland and portions of Virginia, and the city of Washington, have been united in one grand Department, and placed under the command of Major General D. B. Banks are thus placed in a position to meet any emergency. The State Department has issued a notice that, until further notice, no person will be allowed to leave the city of Washington, or the United States without a passport issued by the Secretary of State; nor will any person be allowed to enter from his own Government, or be employed by such minister or consular agent, until a reasonable time shall have elapsed, and it become known.

WASHINGTON, August 18.—A special to the New York Tribune says that all the talk about direct attacks on Washington are mere fabrications. The purpose of the lower Potomac, and the strong army across the river into Maryland and Charles counties, both of which are Secession. This done, they will march on Annapolis, counting on a formidable rising of Maryland Secessionists for the investment of Washington.

The minimum standard for the regular army has been reduced to 5 feet 3 inches. A special to the New York Times, says a heavy seizure of goods for the rebels was made at Annapolis yesterday. The goods were bought in Baltimore for Richmond dealers. A draft for $10,000 was sent to pay for them. The teams and wagons were also seized, and a number of letters to rebel officers.

The steamer Freeborn to-day shelled the woods near Mathias Point, from whence the rebels fired on the Resolute's boat, and caused the death of several men, rendering them unable to fire for a time at least.

New York, August 19.—There are now 15,000 men in this city. Full and complete reinforcements will doubtless now be forwarded as rapidly as possible. The city has a population of 15,000 men in a few days.

Philadelphia, August 19.—There are now 15,000 men in this city. Full and complete reinforcements will doubtless now be forwarded as rapidly as possible. The city has a population of 15,000 men in a few days.

August 19.—The schooner Windward from Porto Rico August 18, arrived at Holmes' Hole on the 27th inst. The Windward was captured by the Jeff. Davis on the 4th inst. The next day the Jeff. Davis captured the brig Santa Claus, of Eastport, loaded with sugar and molasses, and bound from Porto Rico for Boston. The Jeff. Davis then put on board the Windward 22 men taken from various vessels, and let them go. The Jeff. Davis then captured the schooner Capetown for Boston, and also captured by the Jeff. Davis.

August 19.—Last night the schooner Windward collided with Dan Rice's steamer, forty miles below here, and knocked a cargo which contained the trained rhinoceros on board. The cargo sunk immediately, drowning the rhinoceros, valued at $20,000. Number four injured.

Fortress Monroe, August 18.—General Wool Rescued command at Old Point this morning.

Fortress Monroe, August 18.—General Wool Rescued command at Old Point this morning.

WASHINGTON, August 12.—Tribune's Correspondence.—An attack on Washington is looked for by many of the best informed officers. The rebels have advanced their lines and are in force within a short distance of the river, and are gathering means of transportation. They have large encampments this side of Fairfax, but probably the bulk of the advance corps is on the upper Potomac.

The Navy Department has advised that Commander Porter, of the St. Mary's, of the Pacific squadron, whose letter avowing rebel sympathy to his father in Virginia found its way to Washington, is in iron, according to orders, and will be sent here soon.

Secretary Welles expresses himself in favor of closing Southern ports by proclamation at once.

We have the highest authority for saying that not one of the Governments of Europe has remonstrated against the closing of the rebel ports.

New York World's Correspondence.—There are no authenticated accounts of the movements of the rebels in this vicinity.

Until Government scouts bring in more decisive reports, there need be no fears of a direct attack on Washington.

The enemies' batteries down the river are assuming formidable proportions, and if they succeed in closing the navigation of the Potomac it will be hard to prevent their crossing into Maryland.

The report of the death of Boteler, late Representative in Congress from Virginia, is incorrect. It was his son who was wounded at Bull Run and died of lockjaw. Mr. Boteler himself it is stated has been arrested. The reason is said to be that Boteler was with the armed band who seized Harper's Ferry Armory on the 18th April last.

Special to the New York Times.—Faulkner's place of imprisonment will be changed to Fort Hamilton, New York. He will not be examined until the evidence upon which he was arrested is used to secure the arrest of others implicated with him.

Reconnoissances and close observations indicate that the rebels are closing in on our lines.

The city is full of secession rumors to day. We have various accounts of the rapid and near approach of from 17,000 to 200,000 rebels, under Beauregard, Lee, Johnston and Jeff. Davis, but all agree that they are coming immediately down on Washington. Our military gentlemen do not seem to be alarmed.

The startling announcement made recently that England and France had formed an alliance with a view to combined action on American affairs was untrue; but the facts are true that three weeks ago M. Thouvenin, the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, transmitted a note to the English Government proposing that the two cabinets come to a closer understanding with respect to the United States.

To this note the English Cabinet sent a message, asking for a more explicit statement. The reply received was a proposition that England should unite with France for the purpose of procuring in the autumn a supply of tobacco and cotton from the United States. The English Government then responded that it could enter into no such arrangement.

Pittsburg, August 19.—River falling with 4 feet 9 inches by the pier mark. The weather is cloudy.

Cincinnati, August 19.—River risen 5 feet 8 inches since Saturday—now 19 feet in the channel. Has been raining for the last four hours.

Sunday Night's Dispatches.

ROLLA, Mo., August 17.—The forces engaged in the battle of Wilson's Creek reached their camping grounds, at a point eight miles southwest of here, to day, where there is an abundance of water and other facilities for camp life.

Major Sturgis assumed command of the army at a point thirty miles from Springfield, and has since conducted the retreat.

The 1st Iowa regiment reached here to-day, and will proceed immediately to St. Louis and be disbanded, their term of enlistment having expired. The loss of this regiment was 13 killed and 144 wounded, 56 seriously, 8 mortally, and 5 missing.

Lieut. Col. Merritt, commanding the 1st Iowa regiment, reports officially that the enemy brought into the field 14,000 well armed and disciplined troops, and 10,000 irregular troops, while our own force was only about 5,000 in the early part of the engagement, and considerably less than 4,000 for the concluding four hours of it.

Capt. Emmet McDermott, of habeas corpus notoriety, arrived at Major Sturgis' camp this morning with a flag of truce, ostensibly to negotiate an exchange of prisoners and procure medical stores for the wounded of both sides, but it is strongly suspected that he is really acting as a spy. What action Major Sturgis will take in the matter is not known.

St. Louis, August 18.—The First Iowa Regiment arrived last night from Rolla. It is understood they will be paid off here. A large number of them express a determination to re-enlist.

The First Missouri Regiment, Lieutenant Colonel Andrews commanding, went into the field 720 strong, of which number 77 were killed, 218 wounded—93 severely, and 17 missing. About one third of the wounded of this regiment were left in the hospital at Springfield, and are now prisoners.

FARTHING POINT, August 18.—The Bohemian has arrived with Liverpool dates to the 8th, via Londonderry 9th.

The London Times has a bitterly sarcastic article on the battle of Bull Run, and says doubts must arise that the Southern nut is too hard to crack, and fears that the question of blockade in America may involve England in difficult complications.

On the last day of the session of Parliament Lord Palmerston expressed his views, and said if a blockading fleet should allow any vessel to enter a blockaded port on paying duties, from that moment the blockade was raised. A belligerent may seal up a port, but when he lets a single vessel in, his right is gone.

An anonymous advertisement appears in the Liverpool Press for a shilling testimonial to Beauregard.

The London Herald says that Napoleon, on receipt of the news of the defeat at Bull Run, resolved to recognize the Southern Confederacy. This is doubtful and unconfirmed.

Ten Breock has won the Brighton stake.

The Paris Bourse was very firm. Renten 68 1/2, 500.

The City of Washington and Hibernian had arrived out.

Sales of cotton for the week, 63,000 bales at an advance of 3d, and closed easier, the advance being barely maintained. Speculators took 19,000 and exporters 11,000 bales. Sales on Friday of 10,000 bales at 9 1/4 for fair Orleans, and 9 1/4 for middling.

Consols 90 1/4 @ 90 1/4.

The true order of public opinion is about the best and surest test of superiority or efficiency in anything. It is especially so with all inventions or discoveries. Money may bring a thing into temporary notoriety, but merit alone can make it retain the post of acceptance. This has been strikingly verified in the case of WRIGHT'S REJUVENATING ELIXIR. It has passed through the ordeal, and established itself in every region where introduced, solely from its intrinsic merit; it pretends to nothing but what it can and does perform as a tonic, alterative, diuretic, restorative and health-giving cordial; for, though medicinal in effect, it is not so in taste. We say try it!

Sold by all respectable druggists throughout the United States and Canada. J. WRIGHT & CO., sole proprietors, New Orleans, Louisiana. See advertisement.

We advise every reader who may be sickly and debilitated, and all who are well and wish to keep so, to try it.—Evening Mirror. and d&wlm
